 As Director General of the IAEA, Dr. Hans Blix was in charge of overseeing inspections of Iraq's nuclear program. Dr. Blix led the group that saw to it that Saddam Hussein did not develop weapons of mass destruction. He now heads the international Commission on Weapons of Mass Destruction. His report is about to be released.*

* Dr. Eisendrath is a nationally recognized expert in security issues with a wealth of experience as a university professor, foreign affairs officer in the State Department, accomplished author and public advocate.*

 Jonathan Granoff as President of the Global Security Institute is an internationally recognized leader in advocacy for peace, security and the elimination of nuclear weapons. He will be attending the Summit of Nobel Peace Laureates in South Korea shortly after this event where he will be representative of the International Peace Bureau and joining the Dalai Lama, Presidents Mikhail Gorbachev and Kim Dae Jung, and Jose Ramon Horta and other Peace Laureates in developing a strategy to advance world peace.*

PPNA is an alliance of groups that seek to end the scourge of nuclear weapons by ending their use, threat of use, or proliferation, and by enforcing the NPT obligation to disarm them.*
